CLOTHES AND NEWSPAPER DISTRIBUTION

SESSION 2022-2023

REPORT

Real Institute of Management and Research

Programme: Clothes and Newspapers Distribution at NGO

Committee: NSS Unit

Date and Time: 06th January 2023, 12.00 noon to 4.30 pm

Objectives: -

1. To encourage the students to participate in such NSS activities.
2. To make students understand the importance of generosity in their lives.
3. To raise social awareness among the students and make them realise the impact of their social efforts.
4. To dedicate one whole day for the NGO and provide them with the necessities.

Highlights: -

1. On 6th January 2023, the NSS Unit of Real Institute of Management and Research organized a Newspapers and Clothes Donation Drive for the residents of Issasani village through the NGO – NIWCYD, with a view to make the students learn the importance of giving a selfless service to the society and create an awareness among them to become a responsible and committed citizen.

2. All the students assembled in the college at 11.00 am. Almost each one of them brought the needful clothes, newspapers and even toys and utensils to distribute it among the villagers.
 3. Around 35 students voluntarily took part in this activity. All the students along with the faculty members proceeded towards the location by bus. Everybody was feeling good as they got an opportunity to be a part of this noble cause.
 4. India has always been a country where poverty is a major challenge. Although the nation has been trying to eradicate this problem for many years now, it has not succeeded in wiping out in large number. There are many NGOs trying at their best to serve the needful areas of the society. In light of this, RIMR also decided to contribute to this moral cause by organizing a 'Newspaper and Clothes Donation Drive', where they would collect the same and donate it to the underprivileged.
 5. We all reached the location and the NGO officer along with her team welcomed us. There were kids along with their mother's waiting to see what exciting they may get today from the visitors. The happiness was visible on each of their faces.
 6. NGO officer, Ms. Rohini Bhalerao introduced us and the purpose behind our visit. The HOI, Dr. Smita Rao gave the sapling to Ms. Rohini Bhalerao as a token of appreciation. She also spoke a few words and expressed her gratitude to the team working selflessly for helping the society.
 7. Then, the NSS volunteers had celebrated the New Year by cutting a cake with the village children. All the kids were overflowing with joy and happiness. The chocolates and sweets were given to them.
 8. The students arranged three different stalls of newspapers, clothes of kids and adults for distributing it among the villagers. Many of them took the benefit of this and were happy to receive the needful stuffs. The residents were appreciative of the efforts of the students.
 9. Furthermore, the NSS volunteers presented a street play and played various games with them so that they could enjoy. The gifts and snacks were also distributed.
 10. The day was spent well in the NGO. Everybody returned back to the college by 5.00 pm.
 11. RIMR is glad that its students have been a part of such a great initiative. The students of the college worked as volunteers to manage all the activities for the day. The faculty members ensured the smooth functioning of the drive. The drive was successfully conducted with the encouragement and kind support of Chairman Shri. Shankarji Barde and Treasurer Prof. Prapti Barde, guidance of the HOI, Dr. Smita Rao and the active involvement of all faculty members.

Outcome: -

1. The students understood the importance of spreading kindness into the society in whatever little way possible.
2. These activities help students to identify the needs and problems of the community and involve themselves in contributing some efforts to eradicate them from the society. It makes the students confident, develop leadership skills, and gain knowledge about different people from different walks of life.
3. Students also learn other skills that help them lead a better life in various situations.
4. It also helped the student grow individually and also as a group.
5. The students experienced the joy in the beauty of giving and contributing for the welfare for our society.
