Savitribai Phule birth anniversary is observed every year on January 3. We, at Real Institute of Management and Research celebrated this day by remembering her achievements and significant contributions in shaping women's education as well as other social reforms in India. Savitribai was one of India's foremost social reformers and was also one of the first modern women to have become a teacher at the time when girls were not allowed to be educated and attend schools. The director of the college Dr. Surekha Jichkar briefly elaborated the journey of Savitribai Phule's life. She was born on January 3, 1831, and this year India celebrates her 191st birth anniversary. Savitribai Phule's contribution was not only in facilitating women's education in India but she is also remembered for her work to abolish the discrimination and unfair treatment of the people based on their gender and caste in India. All the faculty members along with the non teaching staff were present for this programme.
